STRUCTURAL ENGINEERS

RETAIL

McNamara • Salvia has over twenty years of experience in the structural design of shopping malls, retail complexes, and anchor stores. We have been able to apply our expertise to all types of retail structures as the retail model has evolved.

Today, the retail model focuses on mixed use lifestyle centers. We completed a 1.3 million square foot project adjacent to Gillette Stadium, home of the New England Patriots, for The Kraft Group, as well as Freeport Village Station, a mixed use plaza with 120,000 square feet of retail and parking for 550 cars in Freeport, Maine for the L.L. Bean Corporation. We are also currently involved in the planning and design of several more large mixed use retail developments in Waltham, MA, Westwood, MA, and Plantation, FL.
